

1.

What does the built-in Django template tag "lorem" do?

1 / 1 point

☐

Returns true if there are learning objects on the page

☐

Displays the number of remaining learning objects

☐

Displays the overall number of learning objects

☒

Displays random “lorem ipsum” Latin text

✔ Correct
2.

What does the built-in Django template tag "spaceless" do?

1 / 1 point

☒

Removes whitespace between HTML tags

☐

Returns true if the text will fit in a smaller space

☐

Uses a smaller font so text fits into the available space

☐

Shows data with a dark blue background and white text

✔ Correct
3.

What does the built-in Django template tag "url" do?

1 / 1 point

☒

Returns an absolute path reference matching a given view and optional parameters

☐

Emits an anchor (a) tag in the HTML

☐

Encodes the provided string using the URL encoding rules

☐

Checks if the provided string is a valid URL

✔ Correct
4.

What built-in Django template filter capitalizes the first character of the value?

1 / 1 point

☒

capfirst

☐

ucfirst

☐

toUCFirst

☐

toupper

✔ Correct
5.

What does the built-in Django template filter "length" do?

1 / 1 point

☐

Returns the length of a list but not the length of a string

☐

Returns the length of a string but not the length of a list

☒

Returns the length of a list or string

☐

Returns the number of words in a string

☐

Returns the number of characters produced by the template up to this point

✔ Correct
6.

What does the built-in Django template filter "safe" do?

1 / 1 point

☐

Locks the next HTML tag so it cannot be modified in a browser debugger

☒

Marks a string as not requiring further HTML escaping prior to output

☐

Marks a string as requiring HTML escaping prior to output

☐

Exits the template processing and ignores the rest of the template

✔ Correct
7.

Looking at the Django built-in template and filter documentation, the author seems to have a pet named "Joel". What kind of animal is their pet?

1 / 1 point

☐

A cat

☐

A bearded gecko

☒

A slug

☐

A dog

✔ Correct
8.

What does the Django built-in template tag forloop.counter represent in a Django template?

1 / 1 point

☐

The current iteration of the loop (0-indexed)

☒

The current iteration of the loop (1-indexed)

☐

The number of iterations from the end of the loop (0-indexed)

☐

The number of iterations from the end of the loop (1-indexed)

✔ Correct